Betty Crocker Scholarships Are Available

College scholarships, from $500 to $5,000, are available to all high school seniors through the Betty Crocker Search for Leadership in Family Living, formerly the Betty Crocker Search for American Homemakers of Tomorrow.

An invitation to enroll in the program will soon be mailed to all high schools across the nation. Schools new to the event are invited to write the Betty Crocker Search, P. O. Box 1113, Minneapolis, Minn., 55440, for information.

Enrollment deadline is October 31.

On Tuesday, Dec. 3, each participating school will administer a 50-minute written examination. Prepared and scored by Science Research Associates, Inc., Chicago, this general knowledge and attitude examination is the first important step of the scholarship program.

From the examination results, a Betty Crocker Family Leader of Tomorrow will be chosen for each participating school. School winners are acknowledged with special awards and their examinations are entered in state competition.

Each State Family Leader of Tomorrow receives a $1,500 college scholarship while every state second-place winner received a $500 grant. The state winner also earns for his or her school a 20-volume reference work, "The Annals of America" from Encyclopaedia Britannica Educational Corporation.

State winners accompanied by a faculty advisor will be the guests of General Mills next spring on an expense-paid educational tour, which will include Washington, D.C., and Williamsburg, Virginia. A special event of the tour is announcement of the All-American Family Leader of Tomorrow, who's scholarship will be increased to $5,000. Second, third and fourth place winners in the nation will receive scholarship increases to $4,000, $3,000 and $2,000 respectively.

The Betty Crocker Search is on the advisory list of the National Association of Secojary School Principals.

School's Open - Drive Safe

"Safe driving is a year-round responsibility, but it becomes especially important when school starts," said Neal Garrison, executive vice president, kicking off the California State Automobile Association's annual School's Open traffic safety campaign.

Garrison stated that "it is up to you, the driver, to exert caution when approaching and going through intersections and school crossing zones. The beginning of school also means that our neighborhood streets will be crowded with students, many of them younger children experiencing traffic situations on their own for the first time. This requires extra driving care during both the early mornign and afternoon hours."

Garrison continued by explaining that "this year's poster design is quite appropriate, for it centers on the School Safety Patrol. Over the years the Safety Patrol organization has developed into a valuable U. S. institution. The have done a tremendous job in helping to reduce the school-child pedestrian accident rate -- and with their bright orange San Browne belts, patrols will be more visible than ever before."

The CSAA executive vice president conclufed by emphasizing that respect for the duties of safety patrols as well as adult crossing guards would result in "a safer year for both students and motorists."

we must align ourselves with one who promises better things for Blacks.

Present at the meeting were: Ernestine Martin, William T. Martin - both of El Cerrito; Harold B. Brooks, Jr., Lee Payne, Lionel Hayes, Edward E. Charge IRS Harassment

Ministers of the Church of Scientology announced this week that they have filed a Class Action Suit against the Internal Revenue Service. The Church, noted as the fastest growing of the new religions in America today, is charging the IRS with religious harassment, and unreasonable delays in refusing to approve or deny applications made by ministers in accordance with the Internal Revenue Code.

The suit was filed in the U.S. District Court for the Central district of California on behalf of the plaintiffs and all duly ordained and licenced ministers of Churches or religious orders... who have filed for the exemption but whose applications have been neither approved nor denied within a reasonable time." Names in the suit are Doanld C. Alexander, Internal Revenue Commissioner, and Directors of districts where such applications are pending.

"IRS's refusal to act is a clear case of religious harassment and as such a violation of the wall of separation between Church and State," stated Reverend Arthur Maren, spokesman for the U.S. Churches of Scientology.

"Many of our Ministers, duly ordained and licensed by their respective states, are being arbitrarily denied a decision on their applications for exemption from the tax. At the same time applications are being denied by the IRS for other ministers.

The refusal by IRS to render a decision puts these ministers in a position of considerable risk, uncertainty, and future tax liability. The plaintiffs are asking the Court to order the IRS to act on their applications and all other similarly situated, within a reasonable time."

By government count, in excess of three hundred such applications are being held in suspension by IRS at their Fresno, California Center, and the Social Security Administration Center in Maryland. Many more are being held at other IRS Centers.

"Some of our ministers have had applications held in abeyance for over two years," said Reverend Maren, "but the IRS has not given a single minister an explanation for the delay."

"In the case of one of our ministers who paid the tax and then sued the IRS for recovery of the monies, the IRS offered refund of the taxpayer's money, but then asked the Court to find in favor on the monetary issues only. The minister won his case and regained his monies, but the IRS avoided a court decision on his status as a Minister. This shows the ends to which the IRS will go to avoid having the legality of its actions decided in a court of law. The minister is appealing the favorable decision to get a more complete one."

"It has been a longstanding IRS policy to avoid by any means going to court on an issue that they think they would lose" said Rev. Maren, "and if involved in a case that is going against them they try to end it, usually by refunding the money. Their motive is to avoid having a decision reached by a court of law that would be unfavorable to them and act as a precedent in other cases of similar nature. In other words, IRS, faced with 100 identical issues across the nation, will refund 1 taxpayer money to avoid an anticipated unfavorable decision that would affect their case against the other 99 taxpayers. The IRS knows a large percentage of the remaining 99 will pay up rather than expend the time, effort, and costs of going to court."

ARMY RECRUITER

For those fascinated by the world of figures and finance TODAY'S ARMY may hold a career for young men and women with a high aptitude for numbers and the ability to concentrate on details. The world of finance offers a number of opportunities, both in TODAY'S ARMY in the civilian world. Bookkeeping personnel are employed by retail stores, banks, insurance companies and manufacturing firms. However, one of the largest employers is the Armed Forces, and their bookkeepers are known as finance specialists.

Finance specialists perform a variety of duties such as supervising financial records pertaining to leave, travel and commercial accounts, and instructing subordinate personnel on the proper procedures to follow.

Most civilian employers prefer high school graduates who have taken business courses. However, the Army offers a four-week training program at Fort Benjamin Harrison, Indiana, where one can learn the basic fundamentals of military bookkeeping and qualify as a finance specialist. In addition to a basic salary TODAY'S ARMY provides free housing, meals, medical and dental care plus 30 days paid vacation every year plus the opportunity for advancement.

An individual serving in TODAY'S ARMY has a great opportunity for advancement in finance. From a finance specialist a person can progress into a variety of supervisory jobs. If you feel that the finance field has the challenge that you have been looking for since graduation from high school, stop by our office at 431 Webster St. in Monterey or call us at 372-4742.

I'd like to welcome our latest volunteers in TODAY'S ARMY. Kurt J. Gebhardt from Ft. Ord enlisted. Kurt will receive training in the Law Enforcement field after basic training. Jose Macabantad and Wilfred DeGuzman, both of Seaside enlisted as Regular Army members. Teresa Tinker, also from Seaside, enlisted in the Delayed Entry Program and will go into the Army in late September. After her training she will be assigned to Fort Ord in the Medical Field.

That's it for this week.

How to avoid future shock.

Tomorrow won't take care of itself. And, deep down, you know that. So you'd better do something about your future money needs today.

There's a painless way. Simply start building your nest egg a little at a time. It's easy when you buy U.S. Savings Bonds through the Payroll Savings Plan where you work.

You can save as little or as much as you want. Just specify the amount. And it'll be set aside from your paycheck and used to buy Bonds.

Then, when the future arrives, you'll be better fixed to face it. Because Bonds are the best shock absorber around.

Now E Bonds pay 6% interest when held to maturity of 5 years (4 1/2% the first year). Bonds are replaced if lost, stolen or destroyed. When needed, they can be cashed at your bank. Interest is not subject to state or local income taxes, and federal tax may be deferred until redemption.

Tips On Readyng Gas Furnaces For Heating Season

During the summer, many energy-conscious homeowners took advantage of the Gas Appliance Manufacturers Association's suggestion for conserving fuel by turning off the pilot lights on their gas furnaces. With the approach of the heating season, these pilots will need re-lighting, however. The pilot provides safe, reliable furnace ignition and the heat from it will contribute to the overall heating requirement of the house.

According to GAMA, some general safety practices should be observed when any gas furnace pilot is re-lit. The thermostat should be turned down to the lowest possible settle before the re-lighting procedure is begun. Once the pilot has been ignited, the thermostat can be turned up to the recommended 68 degrees F.

Specific instructions for re-lighting pilots should be attached to any furnaces manufactured during the last 17 years, bearing the American Gas Association Certification seal. GAMA's president, Harry A. Paynter, emphasizes that such instructions should be carefully followed. If these instructions cannot be located, consumers should contact their local service agencies or gas utilities for information.

All furnace filters should be changed prior to the heating season also. This allows free air flow and contributes to more efficient operation and longer life of the unit.

While it is possible for the homeowner to re-light the pilot and change the filter, the furnace should be inspected by a service agency, annually.

Plane Owners Must File Special Return

Northern California taxpayers who own aircraft must file a special Federal tax return, Form 4638, by September 3, the Internal Revenue Service announced today.

"The Form 4638 should include the $25 annual fee for each aircraft, plus the tax of three-and-a-half cents for each pound of maximum certified take off weight for turbine-powered aircraft, and two cents for each pound of maximum certified takeoff weight over 2,500 pounds for other aircraft," according to F. L. Browitt, IRS District Director for Northern California.

The tax year for the Use Tax begins July 1 and runs through June 30. If the first taxable use by an aircraft occurs after July 31, the tax based on weight is proportionately reduced. The return is then due on the last day of the succeeding month in which the first taxable use of the aircraft occurs.

These tax revenues are used for construction and improvement of public airports and air control facilities.

"Forms 4638 and additional information on the aircraft use tax are available at local IRS offices," Browitt said.

Is GOD real to you?
Can you trust HIM?
Is HE near to you?

The Bible tells us we can turn to God for help, for health, for protection. Yet some think these Bible promises are empty. They don't have to be. Today there is a book that is helping many people tune in to the truth of God's nearness, His power and fatherliness. That book is Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures.

At a low point of poverty, hopeless illness and loneliness, its author, Mary Baker Eddy, saw that God can be trusted and loved. She found that God heals the sick when we love and understand Him. A deep student of the Bible, she discovered a Science based on living the Christianity Jesus taught. She won her freedom from poverty and disease and from her loneliness. Then she wrote down what she learned for the whole world.

By reading and studying this powerful book along with the Bible, men and women throughout the world have found that God can and will help them. These people have solved housing problems, gained opportunities for better education. They've won freedom from poverty, overcome racism. They've discovered what it really means to be the children of God.

You can borrow a copy of Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures from the free lending library at any Christian Science Reading Room, or you can purchase it in paperback.

SPECIAL FREE OFFER

If you'll take this ad to one of these Reading Rooms, you can have your own copy of Science and Health to read for thirty days. If at the end of that time you want to keep it, you just pay the nominal purchase price of $1.95.

Or you can return it to the Reading Room with absolutely no obligation.

MPUSD Issues Report On Staff

Dr. James Harrison, Superintendent of Monterey Peninsula Unified School District, announced that at this time, the district has fourteen and one-half teaching vacancies and thirteen unassigned contracted teachers. The vacancies consist of six and one-half elementary school assignments, seven junior high school assignments, and one special education assignment.

Harrison said all of the elementary vacancies and four of the junior high openings, will be filled by the unassigned staff. The remaining four vacancies cannot be filled by the unassigned staff because none of the unassigned staff possesses the teaching specialties required for the assignment (i.e. home economics, vocal music, speech). He added that five other teachers have been given temporary assignments.

In summary, Harrison said that school will start on September 3 with seven teachers holding temporary assignments. These assignments will be in English as a second language, improvement of instruction, instrumental music, and in areas to reduce the pupil teacher ratio.

He pointed out that these seven teachers will be given permanent assignments this fall as staff attrition occurs and as enrollment adjustments become necessary.

CHP Test Is Successful

What probably is an all-time record for traffic enforcement in a rural area occurred during a recent two-day period on a remote 50-mile stretch of Interstate 5 in the vicinity of Coalinga when 301 drivers received citations from the California Highway Patrol.

Normally only two of the CHP's black and white units are assigned to that area but during the test period 10 patrol cars and one aircraft covered the beat.

The aircraft was used to spot speeders and was successful on 71 occasions. When an offender was located the CHP pilot radioed the nearest patrol car which overtook and stopped the suspect vehicle. The small aircraft flew only during daylight and was in the air for 15 hours.

A program to further the fight against muscular dystrophy and related muscle-destroying disorders has been launched by CNA's Valley Forge Life Insurance Company and Muscular Dystrophy Associations of America.

The program makes it possible for a family not only to obtain life insurance coverage it may need, but at the same time to designate a portion of benefits to aid in the battle against neuromuscular diseases affecting hundreds of thousands of American children and adults.

Under the Valley Forge program, an individual can purchase a VFL Family Life Insurance Plan with the option of making all or part of the death benefit payable to MDAA, or if he or she chooses, any other recognized charitable organization. The premium for the amount of insurance for which a recognized charity is designated as an irrevocable beneficiary can be taken as a federal tax deduction. Applicants may also make a cash donation to MDAA at the time of purchase. Valley Forge Life Insurance Company is a subsidiary of Chicago-headquartered CNA Financial Corporation.

"This is the first time, to our knowledge, that this type of fund-raising approach has been attempted on such a large scale," said Charles K. Frantz, CNA Insurance senior vice-president. "What it does is enable the average American to become a philanthropist without having to use his or her current income."

Anyone age 18 through 60 who is in normal good health may apply for $10,000, $15,000, $20,000 or $25,000 in term life coverage, plus up to $25,000 in accidental death benefits.

Service Of Library To Be Discussed

Parents! Have you ever wondered how your library can help your child?

The librarians in the Children's Room at the John Steinbeck Library will present "Stepping Stones to Awareness" an open house and discussion of the services and programs offered by the Children's Room.

There will be two simultaneous discussions presented; one will be for parents and the other will be for school age children. Therefore, interested families are invited to attend.

In addition to the two oral presentations, a tour of the library, informal discussion with the librarians, and refreshments are planned.

Questions should be directed to Mrs. Eileen Yoshimoto or Mrs. Carol Vaughan, Children's Librarians, at 758-7311.
